Introduction

In the pursuit of ambitions and goals, individuals and organisations often encounter four fundamental challenges that hinder their progress:

- We don't know what to do.
- Negative thoughts manifest, hindering relationships.
- Lack of support and leverage needed for success.
- The social infrastructure or environment may be immature or set against us.

In this book, we explore how to overcome these challenges through structured collaboration. Unlocking true potential lies in our ability to come together, unite, and collaborate effectively.

Welcome to 7 Steps To Glory. Throughout this journey, we'll discover the immense power of structured collaboration, leading to extraordinary outcomes.

As human beings, we share common ground through our problems, frustrations, ideas, solutions, and questions. Yet, barriers often obstruct our progress. This book seeks to change the status quo, enabling us to achieve far more together within a structured environment that endures.

The origin of our solution can be traced back to the profound desire of my friend, Ivar Ingimarsson, to help individuals nurture their ideas. Fate brought us together, and with passion and determination, we created Ideas-Shared—a structured system of collaboration powered by the Internet. As we reflected on our goals, we realised its boundless potential, extending beyond just idea development to areas like overcoming frustrations, solving problems, and making positive changes locally and globally.

Driven by this realisation, we meticulously enhanced our solution, devising a scalable and repeatable 7 Step Process: the 7 Steps to Glory. Anchored by 18 distinct activity types and empowering the realisation of desired outcomes across 9 ambition areas, this process serves as a beacon for achieving our deepest desires and taking action to succeed.

Ideas-Shared exemplifies the transformative impact of structured collaboration. As we grow, we believe countless individuals and organisations worldwide will benefit from this structured approach, creating the most powerful collaborative marketplace ever devised. Embracing the 7 Steps to Glory, we embark on a journey of personal and professional growth, forever transforming the way we approach innovation, ideation, problem-solving, and achieving our goals.

As you delve into the pages of this book, you will discover 7 easy steps and much more, unlocking the full potential of Ideas-Shared. By joining our community, you become part of a powerful network revolutionizing the way we think, work, and achieve our ambitions. We eagerly anticipate witnessing the incredible impact you will make.

Purpose

The purpose of Ideas-Shared is three-fold:

- One: To develop a global repository of ambitions and goals, in support of personal, community, social, business, environmental, economic, financial, technological, and political outcomes that change and improve our world.
- Two: To bring together a global network of Change Makers that act upon and drive the changes and improvements our world needs for people to thrive and prosper.
- Three: To give the world an operating platform which any individual or organisation can effectively and efficiently use to achieve its ambitions.

Capitalising on the Power of Shared Experiences

Shared experiences possess transformative power, uniting individuals, and organisations in pursuit of common goals. By tapping into collective wisdom, we unlock innovative solutions and gain a head-start in achieving our ambitions.

Collaboration overcomes frustrations encountered on our journey. By joining forces, and following a structured path, we find greater support and creative solutions to navigate obstacles, fostering resilience and growth.

From raw ideas to actionable plans, shared experiences nurture the development of concepts. Open discussions and brainstorming sessions refine ideas, setting the stage for successful implementation.

With structured collaborative problem-solving, diverse perspectives combine to tackle complex challenges. Through shared experiences, we discover innovative solutions that transcend individual limitations.

Cultivating a structured collaborative mindset that is scalable, and repeatable fosters openness, trust, and mutual support. Embracing shared experiences sets the foundation for collective growth and success.

Embarking on the journey of shared experiences, we embrace structured collaboration and mutual understanding. Together, we leverage the power of unity to reach greater heights.

The Call for Structured Collaboration

We issue a resounding call for structured collaboration on a grand scale, recognising the pressing challenges enveloping our world. As we confront the complexities of our time, it becomes evident that more of us must unite to tackle these challenges head-on.

Abandoning the notion of going it alone, we must proactively seek structured collaboration to address current issues and pre-emptively avert future problems. It is a collective responsibility, and together, we must speak up and act to effect real change.

The world faces an array of multifaceted problems—from environmental crises and social inequalities to technological disruptions and global health emergencies. These challenges know no borders, impacting nations and communities worldwide. The call for structured collaboration arises from the realisation that no single entity possesses all the answers. Instead, through structured collaboration, where ideas and efforts are organised and coordinated, we stand the best chance of finding lasting solutions.

While this call addresses current issues, its significance extends far beyond the present moment. By coming together now in a structured manner, we can prevent future problems from escalating into crises. Structured collaboration acts as a proactive shield, with shared experiences and organised approaches serving as the foundation for sustainable progress.

To heed this call, we must abandon passivity and recognise our role in shaping the world. Each of us possesses unique skills, knowledge, and perspectives that, when unified through structured collaboration, create a formidable force for good. By acknowledging our part to play, we empower ourselves to be proactive agents of change.

The call for structured collaboration reverberates across all sectors of society, from governments and businesses to communities and individuals. It reminds us that in unity lies strength, and through structured collaborative action, we can surmount even the most daunting challenges.

As we embrace this call, we open the door to boundless possibilities. Structured collaborative efforts on a global scale offer hope for a more sustainable, equitable, and harmonious future. By stepping forward together, embracing structured collaboration, we become architects of a world that transcends boundaries and unites us in our shared endeavours.

Unveiling our Hidden Logic

The foundation of Ideas-Shared is rooted in a profound understanding of human needs and the intricacies of everyday life. Recognising the fragmented and siloed nature of the world we live in, with the constant barrage of information from television, newspapers, online platforms, and the radio, a systematic approach was needed to streamline the process of identifying and advancing ambitions and goals.

Ideas-Shared: 7 Steps To Glory

Bob, one of the co-founders, brings a wealth of expertise to the table. Having worked extensively on complex software solutions and overseeing the development of procurement and supply systems handling multimillion-pound budgets and inventory management within corporate environments, Bob offers valuable insights. Reflecting on his experiences, he notes, "I've witnessed first-hand the challenges of internal collaboration tools and the potential costs involved in engaging both internally and externally. This knowledge, coupled with my background in procurement, has provided a solid foundation for Ideas-Shared."

The creation of Ideas-Shared represents the culmination of years of personal and business endeavours. Bob's expertise in relationship management, system implementation, and solution development for third-party clients has led to significant commercial achievements worth hundreds of millions. Additionally, his familiarity with popular everyday technologies has been instrumental in shaping the platform's development.

Every aspect of these experiences has been integrated into the design of Ideas-Shared, both as a platform and as a methodology. The author's ability to focus and deliver exceptional results has been mirrored in the construction of Ideas-Shared, ensuring its effectiveness in helping users achieve their ambitions.

Although the journey towards Ideas-Shared began in December 2018, the concept itself had been brewing for many years since Ivar and Bob first crossed paths outside a small school in rural Berkshire, England. It was through their shared vision and dedication that Ideas-Shared took shape.

Why Is Ideas-Shared Activity Led?

Ideas-Shared is activity-led collaboration because this emphasises the importance of taking action and engaging in specific activities to drive meaningful change and achieve desired outcomes. Instead of simply sharing ideas or discussing concepts, Ideas-Shared encourages individuals and organisations to actively collaborate and participate in real-world activities that contribute to their ambitions and goals.

By focusing on activities, Ideas-Shared promotes a results-oriented approach. It recognises that ideas alone are not enough to bring about change; it is through tangible actions and collaborative efforts that progress is made. Whether it's implementing a community project, launching a business initiative, advocating for a social cause, or making environmental improvements, the emphasis on activity-led collaboration ensures that participants are actively working towards their ambitions.

Activity-led collaboration also fosters a sense of accountability and ownership. When individuals and organisations commit to specific activities, they are more likely to follow through and take responsibility for their contributions. This approach encourages collaboration based on shared objectives and a collective commitment to making a difference.

Activity-led collaboration provides a framework for measuring progress and evaluating the impact of collective efforts. By tracking the activities undertaken and their outcomes, participants can assess the effectiveness of their collaboration and make informed decisions to optimise their future actions.

Ideas-Shared is activity-led collaboration because it recognises the power of taking concrete actions to drive change, encourages accountability and ownership, and provides a structured approach for measuring progress and achieving desired outcomes.

Concepts Behind Ideas-Shared

The Power of People: Foundation of Ideas-Shared

Amidst the noise surrounding the Internet, AI, information overload, and automation, there is one undeniable truth that stands tall above all else—people. People are at the core of everything we do, and they are the ones we genuinely care about. It is with this belief that Ideas-Shared was created: to help people, plain and simple.

When we speak of people, we envision all individuals, regardless of their background—rich or poor, educated, or uneducated, healthy, or infirm. We firmly believe that everyone deserves equal opportunities and the ability to overcome adversity and take advantage of opportunity. This principle is non-negotiable.

Therefore, Ideas-Shared has made a conscious decision to support all people around the world who are over 16 years old, irrespective of their origin, and to include organisations in the process. We recognise that there is little distinction between the ambitions and goals of individuals and those of organisations. The complex web of relationships between people and organisations cannot be severed or managed separately.

Therefore Ideas-Shared extends an invitation to both individuals and organisations to join us on this transformative journey. At the heart of this invitation lie two profound concepts: Universal Ambition Fusion and Democratised Ambition Realisation.

The Concepts Unveiled

Universal Ambition Fusion is a simple yet powerful concept that describes the creation of a centralised repository of ideas and thoughts that span the globe, enabling collaboration on a global scale. Democratised Ambition Realisation, on the other hand, encapsulates the idea that every individual has the potential to achieve limitless success.

Ideas-Shared introduces disruptive concepts that are remarkably straightforward yet hold immense potential. It establishes a digital space that brings together a vast number of individuals and organisations, encouraging them to share as many ideas, problems, frustrations, questions, solutions, as they can in a structured repeatable format.

These contributions are then evaluated through member and non-member engagement in the form of 'likes' and 'dislikes,' forming a comprehensive Leaderboard. A systematic approach is then adopted to address these inputs, either from a top-down perspective or based on local priorities, leveraging the power of scale to minimise costs, increase efficiency, and achieve tangible results.

This refreshing and unconventional approach has the potential to yield unprecedented outcomes through mass participation. By welcoming a diverse range of contributors, including influencers and passionate individuals, Ideas-Shared aims to foster an environment of enthusiasm and commitment. It recognises that even sceptics and cautious individuals may be enticed by the potential impact and choose to give it a try.

The true strength of Ideas-Shared lies in its ability to harness collective desire and intelligence, fostering structured collaboration on a massive scale. By inviting a wide range of perspectives and ideas, it taps into the abundant pool of creativity and problem-solving capabilities within the global community. This democratic and inclusive approach ensures that no idea, problem, frustration, question, solution, or any other contribution goes unnoticed or unaddressed.

Through this unique platform, Ideas-Shared strives to unlock innovative solutions and overcome long-standing barriers. It operates beyond the confines of conventional thinking, challenging the status quo and venturing into uncharted territory. By embracing this unconventional approach, Ideas-Shared positions itself as a catalyst for transformative change and the realisation of ambitious goals through democratic participation.

By uniting countless individuals and organisations, Ideas-Shared creates fertile ground for collaboration, shared learning, idea exchange, and collective action. The platform facilitates the exploration of common challenges and opportunities, enabling participants to pool their resources, skills, and expertise in pursuit of a shared vision across 36 high-level categories that span almost every interest area.

It's important to recognise that the requirements, tasks, resources, and benefits associated with each activity will vary based on your unique needs, circumstances, and environment. Therefore, it is essential for members to identify their goals and gather the necessary information about the activity they plan to share with others.

To enhance your chances of attracting interest and obtaining the necessary help and support, it is crucial to provide detailed and impactful information about your activity. The member area of Ideas-Shared offers templates and tools to assist you in prioritising tasks, pre-planning, and capturing the relevant information needed to create compelling activity listings that effectively convey your vision to the world.

In summary, Step 2 of the 7 Steps to Glory process focuses on identifying your goals and gathering the necessary information to create activity listings on Ideas-Shared that share your vision with the world. By selecting the most suitable activity type and providing detailed information, you increase your chances of attracting the right collaborators and achieving your desired outcomes.

Step 3: Posting & Syndicating Listings

Step 3 of the 7 Steps to Glory process is all about bringing your ambition to life by completing the Add Listing form. This form is a powerful tool that enables you to post your listing in Ideas-Shared' Ambition Directory, ensuring your story reaches a wider audience.

The Add Listing form has been carefully designed to help you convey your story comprehensively. It prompts you to provide essential information, such as your current situation, a detailed overview of the help you need, your desired outcome and the specific value and benefits you aim to achieve, whether they are monetary, qualitative, or subjective in nature. This comprehensive approach ensures that your listing captures the attention of potential collaborators who can contribute to your success.

Moreover, the Add Listing form allows you to enhance your listing with visual elements. You can include images, videos, and other details that add depth and context to your listing, making it more engaging and compelling for others.

When you post your listing, it becomes a pivotal moment where you declare your desire to instigate change and improvement to the world. But it doesn't stop there. Ideas-Shared provides you with tools to further amplify your listing's reach. You can syndicate your listing to other social media platforms, expanding its visibility and attracting a broader audience. To make it even more captivating, you can utilise our eye-catching posters and display them in strategic locations, capturing the attention of passers-by and potential collaborators.

While digital channels offer immense reach, don't underestimate the power of personal connections. You can also share your activity listings with others over the phone or in face-to-face interactions, tailoring your approach based on your level of comfort and the nature of your ambition. As the List Owner, you have complete control over where and how you share your activity listings, maximising their impact and attracting individuals who align with your vision.

Step 3 is the pivotal moment where you take your ambition from an idea to a tangible listing, ready to be shared with the world. By completing the Add Listing form and utilising the available tools, you open the doors to collaboration, support, and the realisation of your aspirations.

Step 4: Initiate a Conversation with Anyone

Step 4 of the 7 Steps to Glory process is about building your team. Once you have connected with people who share your vision, it's time to build your team and delegate tasks. This step is about identifying the skills and experience needed to achieve your desired outcome and finding the right people to help you get there.

As you build your team, keep in mind the following:

- Communication is key - Ensure that everyone is on the same page and understands their role within the team.
- Define clear goals and expectations - Make sure everyone knows what they are working towards and what is expected of them.
- Foster a positive team environment - Encourage collaboration, respect and open communication within the team.
- Celebrate progress - Recognise and celebrate milestones and successes along the way to keep the team motivated.
- Regularly review and adjust - Continuously review progress and adjust plans and tasks as necessary to ensure that the team is on track.

As you strive towards your goal, it is vital to maintain open lines of communication with your team members. Regularly check in, provide updates, and seek feedback to keep everyone informed and engaged. Additionally, periodically review the team's progress, assessing if adjustments are needed to stay on the right path.

With the right team in place, united by a shared vision and supported by effective communication and collaboration, you have the power to accomplish anything you set your mind to. Together, you can overcome challenges, leverage individual strengths, and achieve remarkable results.

Step 5: Accepting Help

Step 5 revolves around embracing assistance from another party or parties, who have similar goals, and which always necessitates your agreement. This could be as simple as saying "yes" or "let's do this" or there could be a more formal arrangement, especially if different organisations are involved. However, it is crucial to avoid hasty decisions. Take your time, reflect on the matter, and then make an informed choice as to who you want to help you.

Should you need to, you have the option of using Non-Disclosure Agreements that are designed to keep your interactions confidential. Always seek professional help should you wish to utilise NDAs.

Step 6: Undertake Tasks Collectively

Step 6 is dedicated to meticulously planning and executing tasks that lead to the successful achievement of desired outcomes.

In our human nature, we often tend to complicate things unnecessarily. However, at Ideas-Shared, we believe in stripping away needless complexity to achieve desired outcomes in the most efficient and agile manner possible. We firmly believe that ambitious pursuits, although complex, do not need to involve convoluted processes and bureaucracy. In fact, we have discovered that simpler thinking increases the likelihood of success.

The founding principles of Ideas-Shared have been distilled into a single repeatable and scalable process that can be applied to any ambition or goal. These principles encompass crucial elements such as developing a clearly articulated plan and end goal, effective communication with others, selecting the right assistance, persistently seeking resources, creating dedicated time and space for accomplishment, and maintaining focus on essential tasks while remaining adaptable to changing circumstances.

On Ideas-Shared, Groups serve as the conduit for uniting like-minded individuals who work collaboratively towards specific objectives. It is vital to remain mindful of your activity listings and the desired outcomes you aspire to achieve. Likewise, when it comes to Groups, carefully consider your Group's aspirations, and evaluate its current progress.

If you are a Group administrator, ensure that the Group's purpose is easily discernible to others. Clearly and succinctly state your goals in the Group Description. Only join a Group if you are willing to actively contribute to the specified outcomes. If you do not have the inclination to participate actively, refrain from joining a Group unless it explicitly serves as a general meeting place.

Groups should thrive as vibrant communities that bring value and make tangible progress towards achieving desired outcomes. Delivering change and improvement does not necessarily require large teams. Instead, assemble a small team of experienced and knowledgeable individuals who can remain focused on the tasks and execute them effectively.

Leveraging support from a broader group, including both members and non-members, may be necessary to prove a point or accomplish certain activities. The key is to determine what needs to be done and identify the most suitable individuals to carry out those tasks. With billions of people in the world who have the potential to assist us, we believe that connecting with the right individuals who are wholeheartedly dedicated to making the world a better place is the true key to success.

Effective planning and preparation play a crucial role in determining the best course of action. Having an agile and flexible mindset, as well as the ability to think beyond the confines of the current environment, provide distinct advantages. By focusing on feasible, viable, and desirable outcomes and managing them using SMART goals or project methodologies, we can efficiently and effectively achieve our goals. Whether we are working remotely, in an office, on public transportation, or locally and globally, the future lies in connecting with the right people to drive positive change.

Step 7: Realise Benefits & Let Beneficiaries Enjoy Them

Step 7 marks the culmination of the entire process. It entails completing all tasks to your satisfaction, delivering value and benefits to the broader world, expressing gratitude to the team for their contributions, recognising exceptional individuals, and concluding all activities. At Ideas-Shared, we do not seek any share of the benefits generated from our platform, unless we are an essential part of your team or fall under the specified beneficiary category for your specific activity. Our primary objective is to support you in achieving your goals.

Importance of Structured Activity Level Collaboration

Collaborating at the activity level across various domains of personal, community, social, business, environmental, economic, financial, technological, and political ambitions in a structured way is important for several reasons. Here's why:

- Holistic Approach: Collaborating across diverse ambitions allows for a holistic approach to problem-solving and development. It recognises that these domains are interconnected and that progress in one area can have ripple effects on others. By engaging in collaborative activities across multiple domains, we can address complex challenges from different angles and create more comprehensive solutions.
- Synergy and Mutual Benefit: Collaborating across different ambitions brings together individuals and organisations with a wide range of expertise, perspectives, and resources. This diversity fosters synergy, where the strengths of one ambition can complement the needs of another. It creates opportunities for mutual benefit, shared learning, and innovative collaborations that can generate greater impact and outcomes.
- Amplified Influence: Collaborating across multiple ambitions increases our collective influence and ability to effect change. By joining forces, we can amplify our voices, raise awareness, and advocate for common goals.
